GUIDEBOOKS

YOU will add greatly to the enjoyment of your trip if you will procure a guidebook of the park and refer to it as you go from one point of interest to another. At the offices of the transportation company at Cody, West Yellowstone, Mammoth Hot Springs, and Gallatin Gateway, at the Government information offices, and at the ranger stations the National Park Service distributes free of charge a Government booklet describing all of the principal features of the park, the geyser and hot spring phenomena, the canyons, lakes, mountains, and fish. This booklet also contains the rules and regulations of the park. It has a few illustrations.

The Haynes Guidebook, an elaborately illustrated volume, approved by the National Park Service, is on sale in the hotels, lodges, stores, information offices, and picture shops at $1 and $1.50.

KEEP THIS MANUAL. IT IS VALUABLE AND CAN NOT BE REPLACED

MANUAL FOR RAILROAD VISITORS

You have just entered Yellowstone National Park. In bidding you welcome, the National Park Service asks you to remember that you are visiting a great playground that belongs in part to you, and that while you are at liberty to go anywhere in the park with perfect freedom, you owe it to yourself and to your fellow citizens to do nothing that will injure any of the natural features of the park, the geyser and hot spring formations, the trees, the wild animals, or birds.

The park was set apart from the public domain by Congress in 1872 and dedicated as a "pleasuring ground for the benefit and enjoyment of the people." It was enacted that it should remain forever as such. Thus we of the present generation are obliged legally and morally to so use and enjoy the park that it will remain forever in essentially its natural state.

Help protect Yellowstone National Park and especially its things of beauty that might be desecrated by the carved initial or other inscription; and throw nothing in the springs or craters.

THE FIRE DANGER

The area of the park is 3,426 square miles, or 2,192,640 acres. Over 85 per cent of this great reservation is covered with dense forests of pine, fir, spruce, and other trees. You will pass through some of these vast forests in your tour of the park, and you are particularly urged to use the greatest caution in handling matches, cigar and cigarette stubs, and pipe ashes. Extinguish every spark before throwing them away. In one year 306 fires in Yellowstone Park were caused by careless handling of matches and stubs of cigars and cigarettes. Many visitors found responsible for these fires suffered arrest for violation of the regulations, then trial, and the imposition of heavy fines for their negligence.

You can not be too careful with fire.

TIME-TABLES

EXPLANATION

NOTE FOR VISITORS.—These schedules show the driving time between points and time of departure of the first car on each schedule. The time of departure from each hotel and lodge for each tour will be announced at the hotels and lodges.

Column 1.—Speed of car in miles per hour. Speed opposite one station is used to the next station.

Column 2.—Speedometer readings at stations.

Column 3.—Names of stations.

Column 4.—Stops: When the word "Slow" appears, cars are to proceed at a speed not exceeding 5 miles per hour. On account of the narrowness of the roads and sharp curves, it is impracticable for cars to come to a full stop at many of the stations on account of the consequent blocking of the roadway.

Column 5.—Time-table for car leaving initial point at time shown.

Column 6.—Passengers are invited to look at their watches on leaving the starting point and to fill out this column accordingly. For instance, a car leaving Mammoth at 8.30 a. m. on time-table No. 3 would arrive at the different stations 5 minutes later than shown in column 5.

Column 7.—Passengers are invited to enter in this column the actual arriving time of their cars at the different stations. By checking this time against column 5 you can tell whether you are running on schedule or not.

The superintendent of the park has authority to change the following schedules without notice when in his judgment the public interests would be benefited by their alteration or revision.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE TRANSPORTATION LINE

You are riding in automobiles operated by the Yellowstone Park Transportation Co., which holds a franchise from the Federal Government permitting it to conduct a transportation business on the park road system. The national park authorities prescribe the character of service that this company must give to the public, and all rates are approved by the Director of the National Park Service.

These cars were specially constructed for park touring and are constantly inspected by park officials.

These cars do not have the right of way on the park roads, but have the same privileges with respect to the use of the roads and the speed limits that are accorded all other automobiles. Your driver is experienced in operating cars on mountain roads, and he is specifically instructed to adhere strictly to all speed and other regulations.

THE SPEED LIMITS

The speed limit is 15 miles per hour on grades, when rounding sharp curves, and in restricted areas. On good roads with straight open stretches the maximum limit is 35 miles per hour or less, as prescribed in the time-tables in this manual.

If these limits are exceeded you may be in danger of accident, and you should insist upon slower operation of the car. You would also perform a public service if you would report the driver's violation of the regulations at the next hotel or lodge, or by telephone to the park authorities, giving the driver's number for identification purposes.

If the driver neglects or refuses to stop at any point of interest indicated on the map herein you should insist upon his immediate compliance with his instructions.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE PARK

Yellowstone National Park is in charge of the superintendent, Mr. Roger W. Toll, whose office is at Mammoth Hot Springs, the park headquarters. Complaints and suggestions should be addressed to this officer in writing. The telephone service is also available for notifying the superintendent or nearest ranger station for emergency complaints regarding reckless driving on the roads, reports of forest fires, etc.

PROTECTION—THE RANGER SERVICE

The park is protected by the ranger force under the direction of the superintendent. The principal duties of the rangers include the patrolling of the roads and trails, control of automobile traffic, protection of the geyser and hot spring formations, sanitation of camps, etc., but they also answer inquiries and give general information regarding the park as opportunity permits. Do not hesitate to consult the rangers. They are here to aid you. Ranger stations are situated near every hotel and lodge and at every junction point on the road system.

THE GUIDE AND LECTURE SERVICE

In order more completely to inform Yellowstone Park visitors regarding the natural features of the park, the National Park Service has established a nature guide service at Mammoth Hot Springs, Old Faithful, Yellowstone Lake, Canyon, and Roosevelt Lodge, where guides and lecturers are maintained on the ranger naturalist force to explain these features to the public. Trips are made afield, and are so arranged as to be available to everybody. This service is free, as are the lectures given in the evening at the various points on the history, geology, flora, and fauna of the park.

INFORMATION AND MUSEUM OFFICE

At park headquarters, Mammoth Hot Springs, there is a combined museum and information office in the building at the north end of old Fort Yellowstone. There is also maintained a museum and information office at Old Faithful and Fishing Bridge. Maps and other publications relating to all of the national parks of the United States are available in these offices. Museums are also available at Norris Geyser Basin and Madison Junction.

POSTAL FACILITIES

The main post office in the park is Yellowstone Park, Wyo., located at Mammoth Hot Springs, 5 miles from the northern entrance. There are also five postal stations, as follows: Old Faithful Stations at Old Faithful, 30 miles from the western entrance; Lake Outlet Station, near Lake Hotel; Fishing Bridge Station, located in the general store in the public auto camp, 26 miles from the eastern entrance; Canyon Station, in the general store at Canyon Junction; and Tower Falls Station, in the general store at Tower Falls. Mail may be addressed to "general delivery" or in care of hotels or lodges or to any of the postal stations. Unless specifically addressed to one of the stations or in care of a particular hotel or lodge general delivery mail is held at the main post office at park headquarters to be called for, but on request will be forwarded to any postal station, hotel, or lodge.

MEDICAL AND HOSPITAL SERVICE

The medical service of Yellowstone National Park has headquarters at Mammoth Hot Springs where physicians and a surgeon of long experience are constantly available. A well-equipped hospital with trained nurses and other skilled personnel is a part of this service. A fine ambulance is kept in readiness for instant service.

Physicians of the medical service staff will promptly attend patients at any place in the park upon call. Trained nurses are also stationed in each hotel and lodge, and these establishments are provided with adequately equipped dispensaries.

In case of accident or illness requiring the service of a physician or nurse, you should proceed at once to the nearest hotel, lodge, or ranger station, where medical service can be summoned by telephone.

Rates for medical and hospital service are the same as prevailing rates in cities near the park.

LOST AND FOUND ARTICLES

Persons finding lost articles should deposit them at the nearest ranger station, leaving their own names and addresses, so that if not claimed by owners within 90 days articles may be turned over to those who found them. Also, if you have lost anything ask the ranger about it, or inquire at the chief ranger's office at Mammoth.

THE PARK MILEPOST SYSTEM

The milepost signs in Yellowstone National Park are diamond-shaped steel signs with raised letters, which are in every case initials of a junction point on the loop-road system or a park gateway.

The following is a key to the milepost initials:

- N. E.---- North entrance at Gardiner, Mont.
- W. E.---- West entrance at West Yellowstone, Mont.
- E. E.---- East entrance 54 miles west of Cody, Wyo.

- S. E.---- South entrance 27 miles north of Moran, Wyo.
- M. S.---- Mammoth Hot Springs where the north approach road joins the loop system.
- N. J.---- Norris Junction near Norris Geyser Basin where a road leads directly across the park to the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone.
- M. J.---- Madison Junction where the west approach road joins the loop system.
- O. F.---- Old Faithful at the head of Upper Geyser Basin.
- W. T.---- West Thumb of Yellowstone Lake where the south approach road joins the loop system.
- L. J.---- Lake Junction where the east or Cody approach road joins the loop system.
- C. J.---- Canyon Junction where a road leads directly across the park from the Grand Canyon of the Yellowstone to Norris Geyser Basin.
- T. J.---- Tower Falls Junction where the road to the buffalo ranch and Cooke City leaves the loop system.
- Mt. W.--- Summit of Mount Washburn.
- C. S.---- Cooke Station entrance 3 miles from Cooke, Mont., on a branch road which leaves the loop system at Tower Falls Junction.

There is a ranger station near each of the above entrances and junction points.

As the map in the front of this booklet clearly shows, the main road system of Yellowstone Park is roughly in the form of a figure 8. This main system, called the Grand Loop Road of the park, consists of 143 miles of improved highways.

The approach roads, the feeders to the loop system, lead from all four park gateways to junction points as above indicated. The aggregate length of these roads in the park is 67.2 miles. Other roads in the park have a combined length of 94.3 miles.

Outside of the park boundaries, by special authority of Congress, the National Park Service maintains 28 miles of the east approach road in the Shoshone National Forest and 30 miles of the south approach road in the Teton National Forest.

STOP-OVER PRIVILEGES

Yellowstone National Park is an ideal vacation resort. It is worth your time for a week, a month, or, indeed, the entire park season.

The four and one-half days' tour is properly designated as a "sight-seeing tour." It represents the minimum time for a circuit of the park loop with 1-night stops at each center of scenic interest. While this tour is satisfactory from the standpoint of giving the visitors a general knowledge of the phenomena and primary scenic attractions of the park, it must of necessity fall far short of giving the visitors the benefits which follow a leisurely visit with time for healthful and recreational pastimes in the high, dry, pine-laden air of this great nature playground. You owe it to yourself to stop over at the hotels or lodges as many additional days as your vacation allowance will permit. These stop-overs do not entail additional transportation expense. Each hotel and lodge is a center from which radiate roads and trails for automobile, saddle-horse, walking, and fishing trips. On Yellowstone Lake are boats for scenic excursions and fishing.

The attention of all visitors is especially directed to Roosevelt Lodge, a unique and comfortable camp near Tower Falls on the loop road. This camp is named in commemoration of the visit of President Roosevelt to this region in April, 1903. Roosevelt Lodge is a resort center for visitors who desire to get off the beaten path and enjoy to the full the stimulating climate and activities which this camp affords. It is headquarters for trips to Grasshopper Glacier, Fossil Forest, and fishing trips to near-by trout streams. In addition, it appeals to visitors who are seeking rest and less strenuous recreation.
